This class blends science with reality; reviewing CDC Guidelines and State regulations for Infection Control and compliance suggestions as well as today's challenges such as aerosol transmitted diseases (ATD's) and evolving/resistant pathogens. Update your knowledge of the most important issues in clinical safety, and meet re-licensing requirements. Are you confident that you and your coworkers handle ordinary and extraordinary infectious diseases appropriately?

Learning Objectives

Identify and explain basic concepts of disease transmission and infection control.

The participant will have a thorough understanding to apply infection control concepts and practices to environmental asepsis, instrument sterilization, personal protection, equipment management, hand hygiene, waste management and safe practices.

The participant will be able to critically analyze options for compliance.
